Southamptton's Print Suits

Those printed cotton suits which dotted the beach at Southamptton so picturesquely last Summer have traveled South! And for all their vivid colors, these suits neither run nor fade. The above suit has a new skirt of bound but loose [if you know what we mean] panels with accompanying hat. 15.75

English Topcoats At Hot Springs, Va.

Even in cold weather the fur coat at Hot Springs bows [on the golf course] before the charms of an English plaid topcoat. And there is an indefinable smartness about these imported coats that gives its owner the air of belonging. An added virtue is their exceptional lightness of weight. In soft plaids. 60.00

Tuxedo Uses Flannel Blouses

No well-dressed golfer, skater, walker, etc., at Tuxedo Park would be without her flannel blouse. They are made in the approved tailored fashion with Peter Pan or shawl collar.

Golfers say besides keeping the cold out in Winter they obligingly absorb the heat for the wearer in Summer. And smart—no end! 7.50

Women's Fashionable Cloth Coats and Wraps

SPECIAL FOR TOMORROW—MONDAY

—among which are our finest coats offered at substantial reductions.

39.50

75.00

At 58.00

Formerly 75.00

Fashionable coats that drape themselves about the figure in a slender effect—others semi-fitted belted models with the graceful loose sleeve, all giving the fashionable silhouette.

Bolivia and Normandy are the materials, set off by collars of self-material or wolf, nutria and Australian opossum. All are beautifully silk lined.

At 75.00

Formerly 98.50

Dressy Wraps and Distinctive Street Coats that are modeled in Bolivia, Panvelaine and other deep-pile fabrics, all topped with luxurious high collars of beaver, wolf, Australian opossum and caracul, and—in some cases—fur cuffs as well. Lined in crepes or silks as befits a handsome coat.

A Swagger Top Coat—At 39.50

Fashion calls for tweed top coats, and Saks & Company answer with a gay, roomy model of the newest cut—though perchance it may be fashioned of camel's hair colored double faced material as well as tweed. A new style of belt offers distinction on the outside, while inside may be a half or full length lining of silk.

Monday—An Advance Showing of New Spring Blouses

that embody the charm and colorings of Springtime itself

At 9.75

They look as though their ancestors might have been French, due perhaps to the chic simplicity of the model, or the lavish bead work that punctuates most of its surface. The overblouse comes to the hips in the French manner, and ties in the jaunty fashion that Parisian blouses affect.

In delightful shades of canna, Gotham gray, French blue, bisque and navy.
